

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The present invention relates to an agricultural sprayer the chassis of which comprises a bearing structure intended 5 to support a storage device and a connecting structure intended to support a spreading device. The sprayer is notable in that the bearing structure comprises a single stringer. The present invention advantageously reduces the cost of manufacture of the sprayer.